EIGHT PERSONS DIE IN WRECK

Many Others Sustain Severe
Injuries in Accident.

UNUSUALLY GRUESOME SCENES

Attend Collision of Trains at a Little Station on Lake Ponchartrain in Louisiana—To Add to the Horror of the Situation, the Wreck Caught Fire and Only Heroic Work of Survivors Saved Victims From Being Cremated.

New Orleans, Nov. 12.—Eight dead and many injured was the toll in human flesh and blood that paid for the errors of railroad trainmen when a Great Northern express crashed into the rear of a New Orleans and Northeastern local at Little Woods station, a fishing and hunting camp on Lake Ponchartrain, twelve miles from this city.

The wreck was attended by unusually gruesome scenes in the fog-bound swamps of the lake shore. To add to the horror of the situation the wreck caught fire and only the heroic work of the surviving passengers prevented the cremation of those pinned down in the debris.

Between Slidell and New Orleans the Great Northern trains run over the tracks of the New Orleans and Northeastern road. A local train of the Northeastern from Hattiesburg and other Mississippi points is due to arrive in New Orleans at 8:20 a.m., and this is followed by a fast Great Northern train from Covington, which is scheduled to reach here at 8:40 a.m.

The Northeastern train was late and the difference of twenty minutes between the running of the trains was considerably reduced.

When Engineer Blackman of the Great Northern train took the Northeastern tracks at Slidell he says he was given the usual right of way signal and proceeded to send his train toward New Orleans at a 45-mile an hour clip. As the station at Little Woods was approached the Northeastern local suddenly loomed up through the fog. Engineer Blackman applied his brakes and remained at the throttle while the ponderous locomotive plowed its way through the train ahead, leaving behind it a trail of corpses and injured passengers.

Engine Went Through Two Coaches.

No one on the Great Northern express was seriously hurt, but those aboard the Northeastern local were not so fortunate. The nose of the big express engine had torn its way entirely through the two rear coaches of the local and the crash and sound of splitting timbers was followed by the walls and groans of those pinned down in the wreckage.

Little Woods has no telegraph station and it was two hours before a rescue train arrived.

In the meantime the scenes around the smouldering wreck were heartrending. One of the passengers who rushed forward from the Great Northern train saw a little golden-haired boy with his hands waving piteously above his head apparently unable to extricate himself from the wreckage which was fast settling down upon him. A score or more of men, some of them stained with their own blood, made an heroic effort to get the child, but the wreckage and escaping steam from the partially demolished locomotive cut off their way and they were forced to stand idly by as the little voice calling feebly for help grew weaker and weaker and was finally snuffed in death.

This child proved later to be Willie Attaway, the three-year-old son of Mrs. A. Attaway of Slidell, La. His little body was taken out of the wreck several hours later horribly mutilated and placed beside those of six or seven full grown men whose lives were also sacrificed in the catastrophe.

That some one blundered all agree, but the Northeastern officials say that the Great Northern train should have proceeded cautiously after receiving a warning at Slidell that the local train was running ahead of them late. The Great Northern train crew claimed they received no warning at Slidell and that even if they had been warned the Northwestern train should have sent a flagman back when the stop was made at Little Woods.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Several Others Injured by Explosion of a Steamer's Boiler.

Mattawa, Ont., Nov. 12.—Three persons were killed, one is missing and a number of others are suffering from injuries as a result of the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Temiskaming. The accident happened at a narrow point of the lake and Captain Jones was able to run the boat on shore, where the injured were removed without difficulty. The dead are:

John Bergouman, fireman, Ville Marie; John Minard, fireman, Temiskaming; E. Chartier, Gatineau Point; J. McBride, Columbus, O. J. McBride of Columbus, O., and C. Ryan of Ottawa jumped into the lake when the explosion occurred and started to swim to shore. Ryan reached land, but McBride is missing.

FAVORED BY DEMOCRATS.

Increase in the Rate of Duty on Crude Barytes.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The Democratic members of the house ways and means committee favoring an increase in the rate of duty, and the Republican members assuming an attitude against a protective rate on barytes, an article listed in Schedule A of the tariff, was the unusual situation which developed at the hearing before the committee. Former Representative M. E. Rhodes and A. G. Nulson, S. M. Evans of North Carolina, and Charles J. Staples of Buffalo, N. Y., spoke in favor of increasing the duty on crude barytes and when Mr. Evans took up the argument, speaking of the barytes deposits in North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, the Democratic members of the ways and means committee became interested.

Representative Pow of North Carolina, a Democrat, told Mr. Evans that if he could show that the mining of barytes was made unprofitable because of the prevailing tariff, he would have the support of the minority members of the committee in the recommendation for an increase in the duties. Despite the assertion by Mr. Rhodes that Missouri was carried in the last election for William H. Taft because of the belief that a higher protective tariff would be enacted, the Republican members of the committee, led by Chairman Payne and Representatives Longworth and Boultell, apparently desired to bring out the fact that no higher duty was necessary on barytes.

SAVES A MAN'S LIFE.

Mrs. Jack Gardner of Boston Joins Ranks of the Lifesavers.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jack Gardner, a noted patron of art, who lives in a magnificent Venetian marble palace on the Back Bay, has joined the ranks of the lifesavers. Shortly after she had retired for the night she heard cries of help coming from the direction of Muddy brook, which flows near her place. Hastily dressing, she aroused her watchman and the two went down to the brook to find a man struggling in the deep mud and water.

Mrs. Gardner and the watchman after considerable difficulty pulled the man from the brook.

Department Store Destroyed.

Litchfield, Minn., Nov. 12.—Wells Brothers' company's big department store here has been destroyed by fire. The loss on stock and building is $60,000; insurance $48,000. The origin of the fire is not known.

OTHER PLANS OF EXTORTION

Conceived by the Woman Who Threatened Mrs. Phipps.

VISITED COLORADO TREASURER

Now Believed That She Intended to Try to Obtain Money From the State's Strong Box—Theory That Mrs. Read Was Under the Influence of Another Woman Receives Partial Confirmation.

Denver, Nov. 12.—That Mrs. Allen F. Reed, who sought to compel Mrs. Genevieve Chanler Phipps, the wealthy society leader, to give her a large sum of money by threatening her life with dynamite, had other plans of extortion seems certain from the latest developments in the case.

State Treasurer Albert E. Bent gave publicity to a story of the visit he received from a woman Monday afternoon in his office in the capitol. The visitor claimed she represented an Eastern magazine and was collecting material for an article to be entitled "A Morning in Colorado's Capital."

Although Mr. Bent pressed her for an answer the woman evaded his query as to the name of the magazine she was contributing to. His visitor's actions were peculiar, stated Mr. Bent, and she seemed to be constantly watching the door to his private office, which stood open, and outside of which several men were waiting for interviews with the state treasurer. The fact that any magazine should be interested in such an ordinary subject struck Mr. Bent as strange, and he was diffident about granting the woman an extended audience. After questioning him a little further, the woman suddenly excused herself, saying she would return later and left the room. An hour or so later the Phipps affair occurred. From the description of Mrs. Read printed in the newspapers, as well as her photograph, Treasurer Bent is convinced that the woman who paid him the strange visit was no other than Mrs. Read and that she had in mind a purpose similar to that carried out in her meeting with Mrs. Phipps when she visited him.

In confirmation of the theory that Mrs. Read was under the influence of another woman, a local palmist and clairvoyant appeared at the police station and identified Mrs. Read as one of two women who visited him on Tuesday of last week. One gave the name of Madame Leroy and seemed to be absolutely in control over the other. The other, he says, was Mrs. Read. The woman claiming to be Madame Leroy questioned him concerning the cost of licenses, advertising, etc., in connection with the practice of his profession, saying that she contemplated engaging in this pursuit in this city.

Mrs. Read has been released in bond of $200, based on a charge of assault on one of the detectives who arrested her, and is with her husband here.

NOT THE GRAVE OF ANDREE

Captain of Fishing Schooner Found That of Andre Ansty.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 12.—Captain Chalker, master of the fishing schooner Pilot of Brigus, Conception Bay, said that while his vessel was cod fishing in Mugford bay, Northern Labrador, about Aug. 10, he started overland across the cape to Blackdust bay, three miles distant, and came upon a grave surmounted by a cross bearing the inscription "Andre Ansty, Nov. 7, 1897." The lettering was very faint. Captain Chalker did not disturb the grave and did not discover any documents, and he does not know who is buried there. He is positive that the first word was "Andre" (French for Andrew) and not "Andree."

It is thought here that a possible explanation of the grave may lie in the fact that fishermen from Notre Dame bay of the name of Ansty fish near Cape Mugford every summer, and that one of these may have been buried there.

It was at first reported that the captain had discovered the grave of Professor Andree, the Norwegian explorer, who attempted to reach the North Pole in a balloon.

Acquitted of Murder Charge.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Nov. 12.—Mary M. Cavallero, accused of the murder of Walter R. Sproule in this city last January, was acquitted on the first ballot. The jury was out less than ten minutes. Miss Cavallero's defense was that she had been deceived and cast off by Sproule and that he had beaten and threatened to kill her

SON OF COLONEL

WATTERSON KILLED

Falls From Window of a New York City Skyscraper.

New York, Nov. 12.—Harvey M. Watterson, a lawyer and younger son of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, plunged to his death from the nineteenth floor of his office building at 37 Wall street. His body shot downward for 110 feet and landed on the roof of a ten-story building adjoining. Almost every bone was broken, the head was crushed and death was practically instantaneous.

While there were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy, evidently it was entirely accidental. Mr. Watterson's hat and overcoat were on his closed desk. Presumably he had attempted to lower the window and either stumbled over the radiator, which was in front of the low sill, or losing his footing in some manner unknown, pitched forward and down to death on the roof below.

Mr. Watterson was thirty years old and married. He was junior member of the firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson. Shortly before 4 o'clock, after having discussed a case with a clerk in the office, Mr. Watterson remarked that he was going home and passed from the library through the office of F. R. Bagg, the managing clerk, into his private office, the door of which closed and locked automatically as he entered. Bagg was the last person to see the young lawyer alive. A few minutes later the superintendent of the building rushed in and informed Thomas E. Wing, senior member of the firm, that he believed Mr. Watterson had fallen from the window. On looking down from the window, the mangled form was seen lying on the roof below.

The body was removed to the Watterson home after the coroner had declared that the death of Mr. Watterson was due entirely to accident.

Mrs. Watterson was prostrated when informed of her husband's tragic death.

Watterson was born and reared in Louisville, Ky. When about twenty-one years old he came to New York and entered the Columbia university law school.

Shortly after becoming a member of the Wing, Russell & Watterson law firm, he ran for assembly on the Tammany ticket in an upper West Side district, but the district was strongly Republican and he was defeated.

Minnesota Man Killed.
Hastings, Minn., Nov. 12.—Andrew I. Anderson, a well known young man of this city, was accidentally killed at Gold Creek, Mont. No particulars have been received, but his remains will be brought to Hastings for burial.

Insist on Route

In travel as well as in anything else for which you pay, you should insist on the best value for the price. When travel takes you to Chicago or further east insist on being routed via

Chicago Milwaukee & St. Paul Railway

Any ticket agent will route you via this line if you insist on having the best, and it is worth your while to do so. Berths in sleepers are longer, higher, and wider than elsewhere. The Pioneer Limited and The Fast Mail are the preferred trains from Minneapolis and St. Paul to Chicago.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and reports were received and other matters given attention. The financial reports from the association office showed the total receipts for the month of October 1908, to be $321.76 while the report of Mr. A. T. Larson, Treasurer, showed a balance on hand November 1 of $318.36. The Secretary's report showed that the back pressure valve had been placed in the sewer which will now prevent further flooding of the basement. Also, that this week of November 8 to 15 is the week of prayer for men throughout the world promoted by the association and that the religious committee of the local association is holding nightly prayer meetings this week and others are invited in.

The fact of the organization of a debating literary society, known as the Senate, was laid before the board.

The gymnasium enrollment according to classes and the per cent of attendance for October was reported as follows:

October Enrollment	Percentage of attendance
Juniors 26	65
Young men 29	63.1
Intermediates 10	63.1
Picked squad 4	71.4
Acrobatic squad 4	83.3
Total 73	69.3

Mention was made of the group to be present this evening to organize a Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

The members now officially asked to serve on the religious committee with Mr. White as chairman, are Ernest Gardner, A. C. Fuller and C. Bruhn and on the membership committee are L. S. Zakariassen, C. D. McKay, Matt Rodman, C. J. Olson, A. Halberg and Walter Fall.

The religious work committee reports outlined work for the next two months.

A request from International Falls for the donation of the old magazines from the reading room here for a construction camp reading room there was granted.

A committee was appointed to investigate the matter of the sanitation of building.

Mr. G. S. Swanson was elected to serve as a member of the board to fill a vacancy. This was an unanimous vote.

Either there are more men going hunting this year than ever before or fewer are taking chances on going without taking out licenses. Last year there were 309 licenses issued. This year, up to Wednesday evening there had been 318 issued and hunters were still coming in. There were 35 of these licenses issued prior to the opening of the chicken season, September 1st, and most of the rest were issued between that date and the 10th, comparatively few having been issued since the opening of the big game season. By far the larger part of the licenses were issued to residents of Brainerd, but nearly every town was represented, as well as several other counties of the state.

Coming Attractions

Nov. 13—Floradora.
Nov. 14—The Toy Makers.
Nov. 17—50 Miles from Boston.

The forty pretty, witty and talented children who compose the Pollard Lilliputian Opera company will return to the opera house for an engagement of two nights, commencing Nov. 13 and will present for the opening bill "Floradora" and "The Toy Makers." Every one who was fortunate enough to see these children during their former engagement will testify to an artistic ability which many an adult company are striving to attain. The only small thing about the Pollard company is the stature of its individual members and what they lack in this respect is more than made up in cleverness. Prices 25¢ to $1.00.

"50 Miles from Boston," is the title of the new George M. Cohan musical comedy, which comes to the opera house Tuesday, Nov. 17, under the management of Cohan and Harris. A big company, headed by Joseph Sparks, formerly May Irvin's leading comedian, Miss Suzanne Leonard Westford, who is Lillian Russell's sister and Miss Hazel Lowry, will play the diversified New England characters which Mr. Cohan is said to depict so cleverly. "Harrigan," "Waltz With Me," "My Small Town Gal," "Jack and Jill," "Ain't It Awful," and "Boys Who Fight the Flames," are among the songs which embellish the story and an excellent singing chorus is promised.

"Health Coffee" is the cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made. Dr. Shoop created it from pure parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Fine in flavor—is made in just one minute. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. Sample free. McGinn & Smith. t t

SOUTH DAKOTA MAN TO TESTIFY

Will Be Witness for the State in the Gunness Case.

HIS BROTHER WAS A VICTIM

Andrew Helgelein Was the Last Known Person to Have Been Killed by Mrs. Gunness and Ray Lamphere—Latter Believed to Have Been Jealous of the South Dakota Man's Attentions to the Laporte Murderess.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 12.—For the purpose of rendering every assistance possible to the authorities in their efforts to unravel the great Gunness mystery, A. K. Helgelein, brother of Andrew Helgelein, the last known victim of Mrs. Gunness, arrived in Laporte from Aberdeen, S. D. He will be one of the main witnesses for the state in the trial of Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Gunness and her children, now in progress here. Through him Prosecutor Smith will introduce a number of letters received by him from Mrs. Gunness during the time that Mr. Helgelein was endeavoring to find some trace of his brother. Mrs. Gunness claimed the brother, after visiting her, had gone to Norway on a trip. At the time she wrote, his dismembered body lay in her private cemetery, where it had been buried after she had secured from him the $3,000 which he had drawn from his Aberdeen bank through a Laporte bank. These letters were all written in Norwegian, for Mrs. Gunness could not write English, and in them are many references to Lamphere, of his threats against her and her children, and of Lamphere's jealousy because Andrew Helgelein had been a guest at her home. She refers to Lamphere as "that crazy Lamphere," and "that jealous Lamphere." It is considered by the state that in the letters of Mrs. Gunness to A. K. Helgelein it has evidence of the strongest possible moment to support the theory that Lamphere, jealous of Helgelein's attentions and angered because he thought that he had been supplanted in the affections of the widow, assisted the widow in putting Helgelein out of the way, and that afterwards, to become revenged upon her, he set fire to her house.

George W. Barnes again was on the stand when the hearing opened. Asked his opinion of the government regulation making pipe line building contingent on the consent of the secretary of the interior, who also has the right to suspend the license at any time, "for cause," Mr. Barnes said he considered a man who would build a line under such conditions, subject to the "whim" of the secretary of the interior, "a fit subject for an insane asylum."

The matter was gone into in more detail, however, when Mr. Greenlee declared that capital had refused to consider the building of additional pipe lines, so badly needed by the territory, since the regulations had been put into effect.

NINE MEET DEATH IN CRASH OF TRAINS

Four Others Badly Hurt Near Borie, Wyo.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 12.—As a result of the collision of two freight trains near Borie, eleven miles west of here, nine persons are dead and four severely injured. The dead are: J. C. Schiel, freight engineer; Martin Christensen, fireman; John Murphy, conductor; Clarence Stitt, brakeman; C. W. Rodgers, brakeman; J. C. Duncan, brakeman; three Japanese laborers on the work train.

The collision was caused by a freight train going east down the Sherman hill losing control of its air and running wild. The train was going seventy miles an hour when the crash came, which piled thirty-one freight cars in a mass, the cars catching fire and a scene of terror ensuing.

The bodies of seven have been recovered from the wreck and brought to Cheyenne and placed in the morgue.

AT OIL TRUST HEARING.

Federal Regulations for Control of Pipe Lines Denounced.

New York, Nov. 12.—Praise for the Prairie Oil and Gas company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company in Oklahoma, was coupled with denunciation of federal regulations for the control of pipe lines in Oklahoma at the session of the hearing here in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company.

Counsel for the Standard opened fire early in the session on the rules the government has laid down for the building of pipe lines through government land and later drew from one of his witnesses, J. R. Greenlee, an Oklahoma oil producer, an expression of opinion that the regulations were passed to keep the Prairie company from building lines in the territory.

George W. Barnes again was on the stand when the hearing opened. Asked his opinion of the government regulation making pipe line building contingent on the consent of the secretary of the interior, who also has the right to suspend the license at any time, "for cause," Mr. Barnes said he considered a man who would build a line under such conditions, subject to the "whim" of the secretary of the interior, "a fit subject for an insane asylum."

The matter was gone into in more detail, however, when Mr. Greenlee declared that capital had refused to consider the building of additional pipe lines, so badly needed by the territory, since the regulations had been put into effect.

WOODRUFF WANTS THE JOB

Would Like to Succeed United States Senator Platt.

Washington, Nov. 12.—That no man at this time has a clear path to the seat in the United States senate to be vacated by Senator Thomas C. Platt of New York in March next was evidenced at several conferences on the subject at the White House and in Washington hotels.

For several days it has appeared that if Secretary of State Root decided to become an active candidate, other aspirants for the place would withdraw. Former Lieutenant Governor Timothy L. Woodruff, chairman of the New York Republican state committee, who has had ambitions to become senator for several years, has not assented to the programme of eliminating all candidates except Mr. Root. Mr. Woodruff has returned to New York and his friends say he will give considerable thought to the situation before reaching a conclusion. He realizes that if he shies his castor into the ring, this would be the signal for numerous others to enter the race, and that the result would be in doubt.

Judge Lacombe's order restrains the marshal from removing Mr. Morse from the Tombs until the final determination of his case on the writ of error before the higher court.

Morse is chafing under his confinement in the Tombs, but has not lost his nerve and keeps himself busy with his business affairs and callers.

AGAIN SWEEPED BY FIRE.

Town of Taft, Mont., Visited by Its Third Disastrous Blaze.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 12.—For the third time within two years a disastrous fire has swept the railroad construction camp of Taft, Mont., 107 miles west of here, and approximately one-third of the town is in ruins.

Starting in the Arcade theater, the fire quickly communicated to adjoining buildings and after burning fiercely two hours, was brought under control. James Bumper, an employee of the theater, was sleeping in the building and was burned to death.

THE PRICE OF COTTON.

President of the Farmers' Union Desires to Increase It.

New Orleans, Nov. 12.—That it is within the power of the planters of the South to bring the price of cotton back up to last year's levels was the declaration of President C. S. Barrett when he formally opened the convention of the Farmers' Educational and Co-Operative union here.

"And when we succeed in restoring the price of cotton to the figures that ranged last year, we will be richer by $150,000,000," said Mr. Barrett, amid the applause of 1,000 or more delegates gathered in the New Orleans Coliseum.

He said that meddlesome newspapermen and busybodies had sought to connect the farmers' union with the night riders. It was illogical and unjust to accuse members of the union with the depredations of the riders.

The union had no sympathy with the night riders and would take the initiative anywhere to rid the country of them.

CLOTHCRAFT VALUE

If you could visit every clothing store in the country you couldn't find in any of them such value—as you'll find in a CLOTHCRAFT Fall and Winter suit or overcoat right here and now.

CLOTHCRAFT garments are made of all wool materials—guaranteed every shred of fabric.

Of course, in some other makes of clothing you will find some of the points of excellence—some of the value.

But, remember this—

CLOTHCRAFT suits and overcoats are the only ones guaranteed all wool and selling at from $10 to $25.

That sounds like full value—it is—and the most value—the best for the price.

EIGHT PERSONS DIE IN WRECK

Many Others Sustain Severe
Injuries in Accident.

UNUSUALLY GRUESOME SCENES

Attend Collision of Trains at a Little Station on Lake Ponchartrain in Louisiana—To Add to the Horror of the Situation, the Wreck Caught Fire and Only Heroic Work of Survivors Saved Victims From Being Consumed.

New Orleans, Nov. 12.—Eight dead and many injured was the toll in human flesh and blood that paid for the errors of railroad trainmen when a Great Northern express crashed into the rear of a New Orleans and Northeastern local at Little Woods station, a fishing and hunting camp on Lake Ponchartrain, twelve miles from this city.

The wreck was attended by unusually gruesome scenes in the fog-bound swamps of the lake shore. To add to the horror of the situation the wreck caught fire and only the heroic work of the surviving passengers prevented the cremation of those pinned down in the debris.

Between Slidell and New Orleans the Great Northern trains run over the tracks of the New Orleans and Northeastern road. A local train of the Northeastern from Hattiesburg and other Mississippi points is due to arrive in New Orleans at 8:20 a.m., and this is followed by a fast Great Northern train from Covington, which is scheduled to reach here at 8:40 a.m.

The Northeastern train was late and the difference of twenty minutes between the running of the trains was considerably reduced.

When Engineer Blackman of the Great Northern train took the Northeastern tracks at Slidell he says he was given the usual right of way signal and proceeded to send his train toward New Orleans at a 45-mile an hour clip. As the station at Little Woods was approached the Northeastern local suddenly loomed up through the fog. Engineer Blackman applied his brakes and remained at the throttle while the ponderous locomotive plowed its way through the train ahead, leaving behind it a trail of corpses and injured passengers.

Engine Went Through Two Coaches.

No one on the Great Northern express was seriously hurt, but those aboard the Northeastern local were not so fortunate. The nose of the big express engine had torn its way entirely through the two rear coaches of the local and the crash and sound of splitting timbers was followed by the walls and groans of those pinned down in the wreckage.

Little Woods has no telegraph station and it was two hours before a rescue train arrived.

In the meantime the scenes around the smouldering wreck were heartrending. One of the passengers who rushed forward from the Great Northern train saw a little golden-haired boy with his hands waving piteously above his head apparently unable to extricate himself from the wreckage which was fast settling down upon him. A score or more of men, some of them stained with their own blood, made an heroic effort to get the child, but the wreckage and escaping steam from the partially demolished locomotive cut off their way and they were forced to stand idly by as the little voice calling feebly for help grew weaker and weaker and was finally nashed in death.

This child proved later to be Willie Attaway, the three-year-old son of Mrs. A. Attaway of Slidell, La. His little body was taken out of the wreck several hours later horribly mutilated and placed beside those of six or seven full grown men whose lives were also sacrificed in the catastrophe.

That some one blundered all agree, but the Northeastern officials say that the Great Northern train should have proceeded cautiously after receiving a warning at Slidell that the local train was running ahead of them late. The Great Northern train crew claimed they received no warning at Slidell and that even if they had been warned the Northwestern train should have sent a flagman back when the stop was made at Little Woods.

THREE PERSONS KILLED.

Several Others Injured by Explosion of a Steamer's Boiler.

Mattawa, Ont., Nov. 12.—Three persons were killed, one is missing and a number of others are suffering from injuries as a result of the explosion of the boiler of the steamer Temiskaming. The accident happened at a narrow point of the lake and Captain Jones was able to run the boat on shore, where the injured were removed without difficulty. The dead are:

John Bergouman, fireman, Ville Marie; John Minard, fireman, Temiskaming; E. Chartier, Gatineau Point; J. McBride, Columbus, O.

J. McBride of Columbus, O., and C. Ryan of Ottawa jumped into the lake when the explosion occurred and started to swim to shore. Ryan reached land, but McBride is missing.

FAVORED BY DEMOCRATS.

Increase in the Rate of Duty on Crude Barytes.

Washington, Nov. 12.—The Democratic members of the house ways and means committee favoring an increase in the rate of duty, and the republican members assuming an attitude against a protective rate on barytes, an article listed in Schedule A of the tariff, was the unusual situation which developed at the hearing before the committee. Former Representative M. E. Rhodes and A. G. Nulson, S. M. Evans of North Carolina, and Charles J. Staples of Buffalo, N. Y., spoke in favor of increasing the duty on crude barytes and when Mr. Evans took up the argument, speaking of the barytes deposits in North Carolina, Alabama, Georgia and Tennessee, the Democratic members of the ways and means committee became interested.

Representative Pou of North Carolina, a Democrat, told Mr. Evans that if he could show that the mining of barytes was made unprofitable because of the prevailing tariff, he would have the support of the minority members of the committee in the recommendation for an increase in the duties. Despite the assertion by Mr. Rhodes that Missouri was carried in the last election for William H. Taft because of the belief that a higher protective tariff would be enacted, the Republican members of the committee, led by Chairman Payne and Representatives Longworth and Boultell, apparently desired to bring out the fact that no higher duty was necessary on barytes.

SAVES A MAN'S LIFE.

Mrs. Jack Gardner of Boston Joins Ranks of the Lifesavers.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Jack Gardner, a noted patron of art, who lives in a magnificent Venetian marble palace on the Back Bay, has joined the ranks of the lifesavers. Shortly after she had retired for the night she heard cries of help coming from the direction of Muddy brook, which flows near her place. Hastily dressing, she aroused her watchman and the two went down to the brook to find a man struggling in the deep mud and water.

Mrs. Gardner and the watchman after considerable difficulty pulled the man from the brook.

After he was revived he gave his name as Joseph Mullen of Brookline. He explained that he lost his way in the darkness while going home and fell into the brook.

OTHER PLANS OF EXTORTION

Conceived by the Woman Who Threatened Mrs. Phipps.

VISITED COLORADO TREASURER

Now Believed That She Intended to Try to Obtain Money From the State's Strong Box—Theory That Mrs. Read Was Under the Influence of Another Woman Receives Partial Confirmation.

Denver, Nov. 12.—That Mrs. Allen F. Reed, who sought to compel Mrs. Genevieve Chanler Phipps, the wealthy society leader, to give her a large sum of money by threatening her life with dynamite, had other plans of extortion seems certain from the latest developments in the case. State Treasurer Albert E. Bent gave publicity to a story of the visit he received from a woman Monday afternoon in his office in the capitol. The visitor claimed she represented an Eastern magazine and was collecting material for an article to be entitled "A Morning in Colorado's Capital."

Although Mr. Bent pressed her for an answer the woman evaded his query as to the name of the magazine she was contributing to. His visitor's actions were peculiar, stated Mr. Bent, and she seemed to be constantly watching the door to his private office, which stood open, and outside of which several men were waiting for interviews with the state treasurer. The fact that any magazine should be interested in such an ordinary subject struck Mr. Bent as strange, and he was disposed about granting the woman an extended audience. After questioning him a little further, the woman suddenly excused herself, saying she would return later and left the room. An hour or so later the Phipps affair occurred. From the description of Mrs. Read printed in the newspapers, as well as her photograph, Treasurer Bent is convinced that the woman who paid him the strange visit was no other than Mrs. Read and that she had in mind a purpose similar to that carried out in her meeting with Mrs. Phipps when she visited him.

In confirmation of the theory that Mrs. Read was under the influence of another woman, a local palmist and clairvoyant appeared at the police station and identified Mrs. Read as one of two women who visited him on Tuesday of last week. One gave the name of Madame Leroy and seemed to be absolutely in control over the other. The other, he says, was Mrs. Read. The woman claiming to be Madame Leroy questioned him concerning the cost of licenses, advertising, etc., in connection with the practice of his profession, saying that she contemplated engaging in this pursuit in this city.

Mrs. Read has been released in bond of $200, based on a charge of assault on one of the detectives who arrested her, and is with her husband here.

NOT THE GRAVE OF ANDREE

Captain of Fishing Schooner Found That of Andre Ansty.

St. Johns, N. F., Nov. 12.—Captain Chalker, master of the fishing schooner Pilot of Brigus, Conception Bay, said that while his vessel was cod fishing in Mugford bay, Northern Labrador, about Aug. 10, he started overland across the cape to Blackdust bay, three miles distant, and came upon a grave surrounded by a cross bearing the inscription "Andre Ansty, Nov. 7, 1897." The lettering was very faint. Captain Chalker did not disturb the grave and did not discover any documents, and he does not know who is buried there. He is positive that the first word was "Andre" (French for Andrew) and not "Andree."

It is thought here that a possible explanation of the grave may lie in the fact that fishermen from Notre Dame bay of the name of Ansty fish near Cape Mugford every summer, and that one of these may have been buried there.

It was at first reported that the captain had discovered the grave of Professor Andre, the Norwegian explorer, who attempted to reach the North Pole in a balloon.

Acquitted of Murder Charge.

Santa Barbara, Cal., Nov. 12.—Mary M. Cavallero, accused of the murder of Walter R. Sproule in this city last January, was acquitted on the first ballot. The jury was out less than ten minutes. Miss Cavallero's defense was that she had been deceived and cast off by Sproule and that he had beaten and threatened to kill her

SON OF COLONEL WATTERSON KILLED

Falls From Window of a New York City Skyscraper.

New York, Nov. 12.—Harvey M. Watterson, a lawyer and younger son of Henry Watterson, editor of the Louisville Courier-Journal, plunged to his death from the nineteenth floor of his office building at 37 Wall street. His body shot downward for 110 feet and landed on the roof of a ten-story building adjoining. Almost every bone was broken, the head was crushed and death was practically instantaneous.

While there were no eyewitnesses to the tragedy, evidently it was entirely accidental. Mr. Watterson's hat and overcoat were on his closed desk. Presumably he had attempted to lower the window and either stumbled over the radiator, which was in front of the low sill, or losing his footing in some manner unknown, pitched forward and down to death on the roof below.

Mr. Watterson was thirty years old and married. He was junior member of the firm of Wing, Russell & Watterson. Shortly before 4 o'clock, after having discussed a case with a clerk in the office, Mr. Watterson remarked that he was going home and passed from the library through the office of F. R. Bagg, the managing clerk, into his private office, the door of which closed and locked automatically as he entered. Bagg was the last person to see the young lawyer alive. A few minutes later the superintendent of the building rushed in and informed Thomas E. Wing, senior member of the firm, that he believed Mr. Watterson had fallen from the window. On looking down from the window, the mangled form was seen lying on the roof below.

The body was removed to the Watterson home after the coroner had declared that the death of Mr. Watterson was due entirely to accident.

Mrs. Watterson was prostrated when informed of her husband's tragic death.

Watterson was born and reared in Louisville, Ky. When about twenty-one years old he came to New York and entered the Columbia university law school.

Shortly after becoming a member of the Wing, Russell & Watterson law firm, he ran for assembly on the Tammany ticket in an upper West Side district, but the district was strongly Republican and he was defeated.

It's in the Packing

Soak a juicy sirloin in ice water a week—then cook and serve it. Would it taste as it should? Neither do oysters treated that way.

"Sealshipt" Oysters

taste right—have all the peculiar delicacy of oysters you get at the shore because no ice or water touches them—no preservative is used or needed.

The ice is packed around the sealed galvanized steel cans. "Sealshipt" Oysters are clean, fresh, thoroughly palatable, always.

New ways of preparing oysters are given in "Sealshipt Sense"—ask any of the following dealers for a copy and try a pint of "Sealshipt" Oysters today. No water. All solid meat.

H. H. Baker and C. W. Koering

The genuine "Sealshipt" Oysters are always sold from a White Porcelain Display Case bearing the "Sealshipt" trade mark in blue. This is for your protection—look for it. The "Sealshipt" Carrier System is patented. Infringements will be prosecuted to the full extent of the law.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Board of Directors of the Y. M. C. A. met last evening and reports were received and other matters given attention. The financial reports from the association office showed the total receipts for the month of October 1908, to be $321.76 while the report of Mr. A. T. Larson, Treasurer, showed a balance on hand November 1 of $318.36. The Secretary's report showed that the back pressure valve had been placed in the sewer which will now prevent further flooding of the basement. Also, that this week of November 8 to 15 is the week of prayer for men throughout the world promoted by the association and that the religious committee of the local association is holding nightly prayer meetings this week and others are invited in.

The fact of the organization of a debating literary society, known as the Senate, was laid before the board.

The gymnasium enrollment according to classes and the per cent of attendance for October was reported as follows:

October Enrollment	Percentage of attendance
Juniors 26	65
Young men 29	63.1
Intermediates 10	63.1
Picked squad 4	71.4
Acrobatic squad 4	83.3
Total 73	69.3

Mention was made of the group to be present this evening to organize a Y. M. C. A. orchestra.

The members now officially asked to serve on the religious committee with Mr. White as chairman, are Ernest Gardner, A. C. Fuller and C. Bruhn and on the membership committee are L. S. Zakariassen, C. D. McKay, Matt Rodman, C. J. Olson, A. Halberg and Walter Fall.

The religious work committee reports outlined work for the next two months.

A request from International Falls for the donation of the old magazines from the reading room here for a construction camp reading room there was granted.

A committee was appointed to investigate the matter of the sanitation of building.

Mr. G. S. Swanson was elected to serve as a member of the board to fill a vacancy. This was an unanimous vote.

Demand This Year More Than Equal to Last When all Former Records Were Broken

Had a Close Call

Either there are more men going hunting this year than ever before or fewer are taking chances on going without taking out licenses. Last year there were 309 licenses issued. This year, up to Wednesday evening there had been 318 issued and hunters were still coming in. There were 35 of these licenses issued prior to the opening of the chicken season, September 1st, and most of the rest were issued between that date and the 10th, comparatively few having been issued since the opening of the big game season. By far the larger part of the licenses were issued to residents of Brainerd, but nearly every town was represented, as well as several other counties of the state.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

Coming Attractions
Nov. 13—Floradora.
Nov. 14—The Toy Makers.
Nov. 17—50 Miles from Boston.

The forty pretty, witty and talented children who compose the Pollard Lilliputian Opera company will return to the opera house for an engagement of two nights, commencing Nov. 13 and will present for the opening bill "Floradora" and "The Toy Makers." Every one who was fortunate enough to see these children during their former engagement will testify to an artistic ability which many an adult company are striving to attain. The only small thing about the Pollard company is the stature of its individual members and what they lack in this respect is more than made up in cleverness. Prices 25¢ to $1.00.

"50 Miles from Boston," is the title of the new George M. Cohan musical comedy, which comes to the opera house Tuesday, Nov. 17, under the management of Cohan and Harris. A big company, headed by Joseph Sparks, formerly May Irwin's leading comedian, Miss Suzanne Leonard Westford, who is Lillian Russell's sister and Miss Hazel Lowry, will play the diversified New England characters which Mr. Cohan is said to depict so cleverly.

"Harrigan," "Waltz With Me," "My Small Town Gal," "Jack and Jill," "Ain't It Awful," and "Boys Who Fight the Flames," are among the songs which embellish the story and an excellent singing chorus is promised.

"Health Coffee" is the cleverest imitation of real coffee ever yet made. Dr. Shoop created it from pure parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Fine in flavor—is made in just one minute. No 20 or 30 minutes tedious boiling. Sample free. McGinn & Smith. t t

Strength your weak stomach, heart, and kidney nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative. Don't drug the stomach nor stimulate the heart or kidneys. That is wrong. Vitalize these weak inside nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative and see how fast good health will come to you. Sold by H. P. Dunn. t t

SOUTH DAKOTA MAN TO TESTIFY

Will Be Witness for the State in the Gunness Case.

HIS BROTHER WAS A VICTIM

Andrew Helgelein Was the Last Known Person to Have Been Killed by Mrs. Gunness and Ray Lamphere—Latter Believed to Have Been Jealous of the South Dakota Man's Attentions to the Laporte Murderess.

Laporte, Ind., Nov. 12.—For the purpose of rendering every assistance possible to the authorities in their efforts to unravel the great Gunness mystery, A. K. Helgelein, brother of Andrew Helgelein, the last known victim of Mrs. Gunness, arrived in Laporte from Aberdeen, S. D. He will be one of the main witnesses for the state in the trial of Ray Lamphere, charged with the murder of Mrs. Gunness and her children, now in progress here. Through him Prosecutor Smith will introduce a number of letters received by him from Mrs. Gunness during the time that Mr. Helgelein was endeavoring to find some trace of his brother. Mrs. Gunness claimed the brother, after visiting her, had gone to Norway on a trip. At the time she wrote, his dismembered body lay in her private cemetery, where it had been buried after she had secured from him the $3,000 which he had drawn from his Aberdeen bank through a Laporte bank. These letters were all written in Norwegian, for Mrs. Gunness could not write English, and in them are many references to Lamphere, of his threats against her and her children, and of Lamphere's jealousy because Andrew Helgelein had been a guest at her home. She refers to Lamphere as "that crazy Lamphere," and "that jealous Lamphere." It is considered by the state that in the letters of Mrs. Gunness to A. K. Helgelein it was evidence of the strongest possible moment to support the theory that Lamphere, jealous of Helgelein's attentions and angered because he thought that he had been supplanted in the affections of the widow, assisted the widow in putting Helgelein out of the way, and that afterwards, to become revenged upon her, he set fire to her house.

With ten jurors tentatively accepted by both sides, court adjourned in order that a fourth special panel of twenty-five veniremen could be summoned.

MORSE TO STAY IN PRISON

No Further Move Will Be Made to Obtain Bail for Him.

New York, Nov. 12.—Wallace McFarlane, counsel for Charles W. Morse, said that he contemplated no further move in his effort to obtain bail for the convicted banker, pending the filing of the bill of exceptions, which will scarcely be done under thirty days. Mr. McFarlane served on United States Marshal Henkel a copy of Judge Lacombe's order staying execution of sentence against Morse until the argument on the writ of error is heard by the United States circuit court of appeals.

Judge Lacombe's order restrains the marshal from removing Mr. Morse from the Tombs until the final determination of his case on the writ of error before the higher court.

Morse is chafing under his confinement in the Tombs, but has not lost his nerve and keeps himself busy with his business affairs and callers.

AGAIN SWEEP BY FIRE.

Town of Taft, Mont., Visited by Its Third Disastrous Blaze.

Missoula, Mont., Nov. 12.—For the third time within two years a disastrous fire has swept the railroad construction camp of Taft, Mont., 107 miles west of here, and approximately one-third of the town is in ruins.

Starting in the Arcade theater, the fire quickly communicated to adjoining buildings and after burning fiercely two hours, was brought under control. James Bumper, an employee of the theater, was sleeping in the building and was burned to death.

NINE MEET DEATH IN CRASH OF TRAINS

Four Others Badly Hurt Near Borie, Wyo.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Nov. 12.—As a result of the collision of two freight trains near Borie, eleven miles west of here, nine persons are dead and four severely injured. The dead are: J. C. Schleif, freight engineer; Martin Christensen, fireman; John Murphy, conductor; Clarence Stitt, brakeman; C. W. Rodgers, brakeman; J. C. Duncan, brakeman; three Japanese laborers on the work train.

The collision was caused by a freight train going east down the Sherman hill losing control of its air and running wild. The train was going seventy miles an hour when the crash came, which piled thirty-one freight cars in a mass, the cars catching fire and a scene of terror ensuing. The bodies of seven have been recovered from the wreck and brought to Cheyenne and placed in the morgue.

AT OIL TRUST HEARING.

Federal Regulations for Control of Pipe Lines Dounced.

New York, Nov. 12.—Praise for the Prairie Oil and Gas company, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil company in Oklahoma, was coupled with denunciation of federal regulations for the control of pipe lines in Oklahoma at the session of the hearing here in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil company.

Counsel for the Standard opened fire early in the session on the rules the government has laid down for the building of pipe lines through government land and later drew from one of his witnesses, J. R. Greenlee, an Oklahoma oil producer, an expression of opinion that the regulations were passed to keep the Prairie company from building lines in the territory.

George W. Barnes again was on the stand when the hearing opened. Asked his opinion of the government regulation making pipe line building contingent on the consent of the secretary of the interior, who also has the right to suspend the license at any time, "for cause," Mr. Barnes said he considered a man who would build a line under such conditions, subject to the "whim" of the secretary of the interior, "a fit subject for an insane asylum." The matter was gone into in more detail, however, when Mr. Greenlee declared that capital had refused to consider the building of additional pipe lines, so badly needed by the territory, since the regulations had been put into effect.
